

AMIC INSURANCE DELIVERED BY MARSH

Insurance solutions for butchers that are a cut above the rest

Help safeguard your business with butchers insurance arranged by the AMIC Insurance team at Marsh.

Business Insurance that's tailored to butchers

To ensure your business has appropriate cover, it's important that as a business owner, you first understand the unique risk exposures of the industry. Common risk exposures to the Australian retail meat sector include:

- Property damage arising from highly flammable materials such as Expanded Polystyrene (EPS) panels;
- Accidental damage to goods stored in cold storage spaces, especially during peak demand seasons where a butcher's turnover volume increases, which places heightened pressure on business owners to minimise any financial impacts; and
- Allegations by third parties of injury or damage to their property while at a butcher's place of business.

Our experienced brokers have harnessed the collective needs of Australian butchers to secure a comprehensive business insurance solution tailored specifically for the risk exposures of the industry.
